The Resident of Haidong has instituted criminal action against the editor of Le Courrier d'Haiphong, whom he accuses of defaming his character, by stating that he (the Resident), when stationed at Haiphong, was informed by the Director of Customs that Oberg was engaged in smuggling arms and ammunition to the pirates, of which information the Resident took no notice, but showed the door to the Director of Customs.

Messrs Gibb, Livingston & Co. write us from a telegram just to hand via Singapore, from the Managing Director of the China Borneo Co. Limited, Sandakan, that the s.s. Affghan, with the Company's vessel Tarapur in tow, reached there safely on or before the 18th inst. It will be remembered that the steamer and her tow-boat put to sea on the 11th inst., just before the report of the recent typhoon was made known.

From the Malacca Independent we learn that mournful demonstrations were made there on Monday last in honour of the late King Dom Luis I. The flags in all the forts were flying half-mast. Minuto guns (15 minutes) were fired from the Monte, Barra, Bomparto and Taipa forts, the bells of all the churches tolling at each interval. The public offices were closed for eight days. The general mourning will be of three months' duration, the first half of which will be rigorous mourning.

FRANCISCO Xavier was sued for $1.25 by U. Sin, before Mr Justice Wise to-day, under peculiar circumstances. Xavier lives in the same house with U. Sin. One evening recently he heard some of the plaintiff's folks shouting "fire," and found that as the result of the usual fooling with kerosene the floor of the plaintiff's place was in a blaze. In going to help to extinguish the fire Xavier threw aside a bamboo bed which was in his way, and it was for the damage alleged to have been done to this piece of furniture that he was sued. His liability, after hearing evidence, dismissed the case.

This firm of Soupe Hareau and Boopis, Paris, has obtained the contract for the construction of the small railway of 60 centimetres gauge between Phu-lung-thuong and Langson, about 300 miles. The contract price was $3,050,000.

Le Courrier d'Haiphong gives particulars of the capture by pirates of a junk from Pak-hoi with a cargo valued at over $1,000, and also of the pirating of another junk from the island of Wai-chow-long, with $3,000 worth of goods. Our contemporary says that the pirates are now in the neighbourhood of Khoo-lang, between Hongay and Kebau.

According to a telegram in Le Courrier d'Haiphong, the pacification of the province of Fokien is proceeding most satisfactorily. In the province of Bao-min the rebel bands have been demoralised by sickness and scarcity of food and their submission is imminent. For the first time since the occupation of the country the taxes are coming in regularly. Comparative tranquillity has also been established in the Langson province. Any European traveller may now go to Cao-bang, La-ga-son or Bao-fé without fear of being disturbed.

Four men were brought before Mr Wodehouse in the Police Court to-day, on remand, charged with causing the death of Lo Tan, master of a rubbish boat, on the 21st inst. The prisoners are the crew of a cargo boat, and it appears that they had a quarrel with the crew of the rubbish boat in question about a place of anchorage, in the course of which the master of the rubbish boat either fell or was pushed overboard and met his death by drowning. Mr Caldwell appeared for the prisoners. One of the men belonging to the rubbish boat stated that the other crew, armed with bamboo poles, boarded their vessel and the deceased got a blow with a pole which knocked him overboard. The case was remanded.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Comercio of Manila, writing under date Daraga, 10th October, concerning the Mayon Volcano, says: "The eruption has continued for 36 hours, during which time the underground noises never ceased. If it is alarming to see the great amount of lava thrown from the volcano under a copious shower of rain, it is more so to hear the deafening sounds which resemble those of a tremendous gale. This volcano has a wide break on the east side through which an immense quantity of candescent stone and ashes have fallen in and snooks pour continuously from it. At the foot of the volcano is the village of Libao, the inhabitants of which have fled to a neighbouring place of resort. Up to the present no injury has befallen anybody."

A WRITER in Le Courrier d'Haiphong recommends France to take possession of the Paracels and Amphitrite islands, which lie off the Coast of Annam. As strategic points he says they might serve as coal depots and shelters for one or two cruisers whose object might be the stoppage of the trade of China. The groups possess some good anchorages which are at present the centre of a very important fishing trade, little known to Europeans but assiduously cultivated by Chinese and Malays. Connected with the fishing are several industries. The natives prepare the bladders of the fish, fish liver oil, glue, etc. and a sort of brandy made by distilling the gills, heads, &c. of certain fish—a species of brandy of which the Chinese and Malays are very fond. The fish are sold at a very low price by a poor population, and are exported from the Paracels in large Chinese junks to the markets on the Coast of Annam, China and the Malay Peninsula, where the pious fetches from $12 to $22 for ordinary fish, the other products realising from $30 to $60. It is estimated that the number of junks on these shores is about 6000. The writer maintains that a revenue from navigation dues, fishing dues and custom dues could be obtained from the islands sufficient to pay the expense of occupation and leave a balance to the good of the Protectorate. A Company with a monopoly of salt would, he thinks, make big profits out of the industries connected with the fishing.

The French are evidently not making so much out of the Yunnan trade as they at first expected. In a recent issue, L'Asie du Tonkin says that since the installation of the French Consul at Mongtze there has been no business activity, but everywhere profound calm and discouragement. The Chinese, says our contemporary, were so convinced that the market was to be invaded by French products that they gave orders to their correspondents in Canton, Fokien and Hongkong not to send any goods by the Pao-sei route; and now that the nothing has come forward the Chinese regret the action they took and have re-ordered the goods countermanded, which amount in linen and cotton tissue, to a total of Tls. 170,000. L'Asie further asserts that the vessels which go down from Loaky regularly once a week return empty. At Mongtze the stock of tin in the mines is accumulating for want of European buyers, and altogether there seems to be general surprise that the French are unable to turn to any practical use the important route for the possession of which they went so much money. On the contrary, Le Courrier d'Haiphong says that there is now a good deal of goods coming to Fokien for Yunnan, and quotes figures from the Chinese House showing that the Marie and Alphonse recently brought 18,600 and 500 pieces of metal wood of a total value of $26,413 for Yunnan by way of Loaky.

A CHINESE doctor who was charged to-day with being in possession of opium, without the necessary document from the Optum Farmer, told the Magistrate that he had a certificate, but his little boy was playing with it yesterday and accidentally swallowed it. The doctor was fined, of course.

Owing to the absence of a representative of the Ottoman Empire in the Philippines and the considerable number of the subjects of that nation now residing in the archipelago, the Spanish Government has just appointed the French Consul in Manila to be in charge of all matters concerning that power.

We observe in a notice issued by Mr McCallum, Acting Commandant of the Hongkong Artillery Volunteers, that the silver gun-carriage presented by the corps to Major Tripp is now finished, and may be soon on the night of the annual general meeting, 31st October. We obtained a glimpse of the present the other day, and we must say that we have never seen a better piece of Chinese workmanship. The work was done in Canton and certainly does credit to the workman. All the details of a gun, gun-carriage and ammunition wagon are faithfully and artistically reproduced, and the whole forms a perfect model.

From particulars which appear in the Shanghai Times it appears the export of Japan rice this year shows a decrease compared with last year up to a corresponding date (Aug. 14th), of 90,000 tons. The exported rice reached a total of 170,000 tons.

We have it on official authority that it has been decided by the Kobo Municipal authorities to tax the private foreign schools and hospitals in the mixed residence part of the town the same as those belonging to Japanese subjects. — Japan Gazette.

DURING the three months ending June 30th 30,000 cases of snuff were manufactured in Hyogo-ken and the sales reached 23,736 cases, of which 21,146 were exported abroad, the quantities varying from 30 to 55 per case. Owing to the limited circulation of money in China, the principal market for the goods, business has been quiet since the end of March and the quantity manufactured has consequently diminished.

Some time ago the Japan Gazette published a paragraph given us by Captain Lee of C. P. steamer Abyssinia, in which a rock was reported as lying off the coast of Japan and the position given was lat. 38° 30' North and long. 142° 00' East, or thereabouts.
